Historic estate in San Lorenzo with spectacular outdoor living spaces

A spectacular family estate in San Lorenzo, in the northeast of the island, a small village in the municipality of San Juan with a beautiful setting. The house has been lovingly restored to its former glory over the last three years. It is at once historic yet contemporary; luxurious yet rustic; imposing yet light-hearted. In homage to its privileged rural location, the finca puts great emphasis on sustainability and slow living. Guests are encouraged to retreat, to reset, and to honour the estate's connection to Mother Nature. To eat from the gardens and worship the sun.

The camino twists and turns, climbing higher as it winds its way through the forest. Native trees cluster beneath the ancient terraces – carob, almond, orange – their sweet fruit and flowers scenting the hazy summer air. At last, the house; a traditional 300-year-old finca - one of Ibiza's grandest – set amid twenty acres of sprawling grounds with far-reaching views across the island. It features nine capacious bedroom suites, an array of spectacular outdoor living and dining spaces and a vast saltwater swimming pool, along with dedicated wellness areas and a soundproofed party cave.

Interior

Interiors are tactile, luxurious, eclectic, with a nod to the 1970s by the way of mixing the natural textures, iconic design pieces and a warm, earthy palette. Art and antiques take centre stage, influenced by the finca's colourful owners; a trio of global nomads who have found home in Ibiza's cultural paradise.

Rustic wooden doors open onto a soaring living space where double-height ceilings, metre-thick stone walls and traditional sabina beams - whose evocative pine fragrance permeates the house – a journey back to the past. This is the hub of the finca, a convivial space, a soothing refuge in the heat of the day.

A huge pine dining table seats eighteen on playful psychedelic chairs, the ideal spot for lazy family breakfasts or glorious dinner parties with friends. The finca honours Ibiza's local craftspeople and here we find contemporary ceramics, along with traditional Ibicencan antiques.
