Welcome to Villa Giancarlo, an extravagant 4-bedroom waterfront villa, situated just a short walk from a gorgeous sun-kissed beach on the Amalfi Coast, Italy.

Warmed by the fading light of Tyrrhenian sunsets that grace the villa, the clean white walls and architecture of the rounded archways glow and serve to spread as much sunlight around the interior as possible, at several levels of the house. The terracotta tiles with a burnished red colour, typical in the stylings of Italian villas, cap the property, making it the perfect place to enjoy the treasures that the Amalfi coast, and all it contains, has to offer.

The villa is abundant in places that guests can find refuge in, both indoors and outdoors; plush couches and armchairs are placed around the ornate fireplace in the open plan lounge and dining area, a stylized affair that complements the rounded archways over the patio doors, out to the terrace. The dining area is equipped by six snug wicker chairs that allow guests to comfortably dine, with a beach wood installation styled into a chandelier overhead. The separate lounge also contains a fireplace, with a coffee table framed by comfortable sofas, a room suited to entertaining family or friends, or an ideal spot for relaxing in solitude with a book in hand and a wine glass in the other.

The cosy, efficiently designed kitchen is well-equipped with modern appliances and state-of-the-art equipment, which make serving up meals a breeze, and with the services of a private chef, guests can experience the quality and savour the taste of genuine Italian cuisine, made with local produce and in the hands of a professional.

The kitchen has a terrace door to make transporting delectable food to the outer dining area an effortless task, with the glorious Italian sunset as the backdrop to sumptuous and aromatic dishes by candlelight.

Each bedroom is equipped with a luxurious queen size bed, three of which can be separated into comfortable twins, and each has an amazing view out onto the Tyrrhenian Sea from the balcony. Three of the rooms are equipped with an en-suite bathroom, the other having access to a private bathroom with a luxurious bathtub to sink into at the end of a day full of activity and adventure.
